Program Information

Allow BCA to help market and sell your products or services. Think of our innovative program in terms of a farmer's co-op: We search for top-quality goods that are in demand, or that are new and innovative products event managers would want to sell, distribute or give away. BCA negotiates the best price for these goods and services and makes them available via its website.

BCA will market your products or services, at no cost to you, through our network of non-profit organizations and their donors. We will also be issuing several press releases announcing this program.

We do all the work: We setup the web pages, we take the order, and we act as the primary contact source to work through any problems that might occur.

All you have to do is fill the order quickly and ship it out.

Dramatically Increase Your Sales!
